What's significant about May 2018?

As of 21st May 2018, Audagarage will become part of Autodata's industry-leading technical data platform, servicing the automotive aftermarket.

Will the service I currently receive from Audatex change after May 2018?

No. After 21st May 2018, Audatex will no longer own Audagarage. The product will be owned and powered by Autodata, who are now part of the Solera family (Solera is Audatex's parent company). The service you currently receive will not change and there is no action you need to take. However, the tie up with Autodata significantly reinforces Audagarage's capability, making it what we believe is the industry's most powerful technical and supplementary information hub for bodyshops.

Do I need to do anything – re-register?

You do not need to re-register. You will receive an activation email directly from Autodata in May to set up your new Audagarage login details. Once you receive your activation email, click on the activation link to set up your account.

How do I access Audagarage?

You will receive an activation email from Autodata directly to set up your new account login details. When you receive your activation email, following the activation link to create your account. Once you have activated your account from 21st May you will be able to login to Audagarage powered by Autodata by following the link below: workshop.autodata-group.com/login

Do I have to pay extra for Audagarage?

No. Your current subscription with Audagarage will remain the same.

Is Audagarage Autodata now?

No. Autodata is still a separate company to Audatex but part of the Solera family, and Autodata now owns Audagarage. This means we are uniquely placed to deliver you one, industry-leading solution that amalgamates the best of both products.

What sort of technical data does Audagarage contain and how does it compare with the rest of the industry?
